FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Beltsville, Maryland: Formed by a combination of DataBank Inc. and the recently purchased assets of ImageMax Inc., DataBank IMX began operations today under its new banner.

DataBank IMX sets the pace as a new leader in the document management industry with eleven facilities nationwide. Major markets served by DataBank IMX include; Washington DC, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Detroit, Chicago, Houston, Louisiana, San Francisco and Sacramento California. Databank IMX provides digital services, high quality microfilming and imaging systems for organizations who want to improve their document Imaging and information management processes. The company also enjoys industry partnerships with document management and technology organizations from around the world.

DataBank IMX is privately owned and managed by Dick Aschman and Chuck Bauer, who combined, have over 50 years of experience managing businesses in the imaging and information management field. Mr. Aschman is Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Bauer is President and Chief Operating Officer of the company.

Dick Aschman has led global businesses in the document management, business services, entertainment imaging, and commercial printing industries. Prior to founding DataBank IMX with Mr. Bauer, Dick was CEO of Vutek, a manufacturer of grand format inkjet printers and inks. Aschman spent most of his career with Kodak, where he led some of the company's fastest growing and most profitable units.

Chuck Bauer is an entrepreneur with extensive experience building imaging companies. As CEO and owner of Databank Inc., Bauer has doubled the size of the business in the last 18 months. Chuck was also co-founder and owner of B&B Information & Image Management and has led successful information and imaging venture abroad.

The first priority for these industry experts is continued delivery of outstanding service to their clients. "We are delighted to announce the purchase of the ImageMax assets and assure our clients that we are positioned better than ever to deliver on our commitments and insure existing projects continue uninterrupted. We intend to further improve on service levels that our valued clients require and deserve, Aschman said."
